We offer a number of purchase options for acquiring our eBooks

Major annual subject collections

We offer major annual subject collections in Law, Business & Management, Economics, Sociology, Social Policy & Education, Geography, Planning & Tourism, Political Science & Public Policy. These are non-overlapping and provide the most cost effective way of acquiring our eBooks.

Subject specific collections

Targeted collections in over 90 different subject areas containing books published from 1994 to the end of last year. These collections include monographs, Handbooks, dictionaries and Research Literature Reviews. 13 of these collections comprise only reference works. Available on perpetual access.

Essentials collections

We have used citation, sales, and Elgaronline usage data to curate these collections of titles that have stood the test of time in key areas of our list. Featuring wide ranges of topics and written by geographically and ideologically diverse selections of our authors, these are essential collections for libraries building well-rounded and comprehensive collections. Containing books published from 1994 to the end of last year.

Handbook collections

Our authoritative Handbooks comprise specially commissioned, peer reviewed, original chapters offering comprehensive analyses of each topic. Our Handbooks are unique in their research focus and, in many cases, the cross disciplinary nature of the topics.

Tailored collections

This model allows you to customise your selection from across our whole eBook list. Pick and choose a minimum of 30 titles from across our list to fit the needs of your library. Tell us your budget, the subject areas you are interested in, or a range of publication dates and we can give you a proposal. Available on perpetual access.

Practitioner law collections

Our professional law programme includes books to support practising lawyers in their research and day-to-day client work. Our Law and Practice series offers rigorous analysis of substantive law, often covering elements of practice and procedure, and cross border issues. Elgar Commentaries are authoritative reference works, providing detailed interpretation of treaties, regulations and other legislative instruments. Elgar Practical Guides and Elgar Compliance Guides are aimed at those who require applied practical guidance on the procedural, commercial and substantive aspects of their legal work.

Teaching Intellectual Property Law

Strategy and Management

Edited by Sabine Jacques, University of East Anglia Law School, UK and Maastricht University, the Netherlands and Ruth Soetendorp, City University of London and Bournemouth University, UK

Integral to the commercial law field, Intellectual Property (IP) knowledge is central to culture, innovation, and enterprise. Looking forward to the new academic norm, Teaching Intellectual Property Law: Strategy and Management uses experience as well as innovative, interactive, practice-based methods for teaching IP to examine the various ways through which to move on from 'chalk and talk' methods.

TEXTBOOK

Advanced Introduction to U.S. Data Privacy Law

Ari Ezra Waldman, University of California, Irvine School of Law, US

'Ari Waldman has written a superb and insightful critique of privacy law, chronicling where it has been, where it is now, and where it needs to go to achieve the kind of privacy all people need to flourish. And, importantly, this book is accessible. Policymakers need to read this. Students and professors will find it illuminating and clear. Anyone interested in privacy will learn from it.'

Climate and Energy Law and Policy in the EU and East Asia

Transition and Policy Cooperation

Edited by Stefan E. Weishaar, University of Groningen, the Netherlands, Eunjung Kim, Korea Legislation Research Institute, Republic of Korea and Fitsum G. Tiche, University of Groningen, the Netherlands

'No matter whether from the perspective of emissions and from that of carbon neutrality, the climate and energy law and policy in the EU and East Asia is vital for global climate governance. The book examines comprehensively and insightfully climate law, energy law, and transition and cooperation respectively in EU and East Asia, which provides a solid foundation and important conclusions for comparing laws and practices in different jurisdictions.'

The Debt Crisis of the 1980s

Law and Political Economy

Jérôme Sgard, Sciences Po, Paris, France

'This exquisitely timed and important book returns a twice-lost decade to its rightful place in sovereign debt theory and practice. An urge to forget for some combined with endless casual mentions to drain the 1980s of color and meaning in contemporary imagination. In place of generic cutouts of systemic crisis, deadweight loss, oppression, and financial alchemy, Jérôme Sgard offers an original account of institutional ferment, creative agency, and fraught politics at the root of international financial architecture.'

Research Handbook on Digital Trade

Edited by David Collins, City, University of London, UK and Michael Geist, University of Ottawa, Canada

'Digital trade is the future, but do we really understand what digital trade is and what challenges it poses to trade policy-makers and regulators? This Research Handbook on Digital Trade is an excellent starting point (and more) if you want to understand digital trade better. The 26 contributions, written by many of the top experts on the topic and skillfully edited by David Collins and Michael Geist, are a must-read for international trade lawyers.'

Research Handbook on EU Internet Law

2nd edition

Edited by Andrej Savin and Jan Trzaskowski, Copenhagen Business School, Denmark

'The Research Handbook gives us much-needed insight into what may be considered as the central struggle of contemporary law, i.e. the attempt to regulate the digital revolution. A must-read for anyone trying to understand the law in 21st century.'

– Maciej Szpunar, Court of Justice of the European Union

Cross-Border Trade Secret Disputes in the European Union

Jurisdiction and Applicable Law

Lydia Lundstedt, Stockholm University, Stockholm and Linköping University, Sweden

'Trade secrets are still too often seen as ancillary to registered IP rights, whereas they are crucial in our borderless data-driven economy. This excellent study looks at how private international law deals with cross-border trade secret disputes. It does so in a clear and comprehensive manner. This is essential reading!'

Freedom Under the Private Law

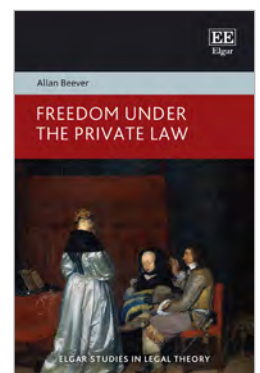

Allan Beever, Auckland University of Technology, New Zealand

'Allan Beever's fascinating book is an extended meditation on the rule of law. Through a series of vignettes Beever questions what he calls the "standard narrative" about the relationship between law and politics and challenges many common assumptions about what it means to do justice. While not everybody will embrace the conclusions that Beever draws, all readers will be engaged by his arguments. It is a bold and bracing read.'

Carbon Emissions Trading in China

Law, Policy and Mechanisms

Qin Tianbao, Wuhan University, China and Zhang Meng, Lund University, Sweden

'China is now becoming a major player in the global climate change game. After initial pilots it introduced an emission trading system at the national level. This fascinating book provides a detailed analysis of the legal aspects of ETS in China. Both the economic rationale as well as the legal regulations are explained in a detailed manner. Anyone interested in climate change policy and environmental policy in China will undoubtedly benefit from reading this book.'

Quantitative Methods in Comparative Law

Pier Giuseppe Monateri and Mauro Balestrieri, University of Turin, Italy

'Was our critical horizon not that of incommensurability, as the world order was insidiously overtaken by neoliberal "metric legality"? Taking us by complete surprise, this brilliant political-legal model of "friction theory" uses quantitative methods to understand social approaches to law and their (often perverse...) effects in the empirical world.'

Equality and Non-Discrimination in Armed Conflict

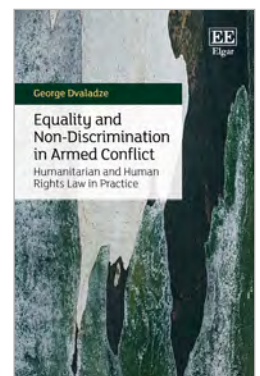

Humanitarian and Human Rights Law in Practice

George Dvaladze, International Committee of the Red Cross

'International humanitarian law consists of plenty of distinctions. Many therefore thought that its prohibition of "adverse distinction" has a very different meaning than the human rights principle of non-discrimination. George Dvaladze proves to us that this is wrong and shows in detail when certain conduct in armed conflict, including in the conduct of hostilities, is actually discriminatory.'

Research Handbook on Soft Law

Edited by Mariolina Eliantonio, Maastricht University, the Netherlands, Emilia Korkea-aho, University of Eastern Finland and Ulrika Mörth, Stockholm University, Sweden

'While soft law is increasingly central, its fuzziness – sitting between law and politics; the local and the global; the public and the private – makes it difficult to grasp for academics and practitioners alike. Into this darkness, this Research Handbook shines bright light, examining both soft law's history and its development across policy fields. For its intellectual depth and empirical rigour, it deserves to be widely read.'

Research Handbook on the Politics of Constitutional Law

Edited by Mark Tushnet, Harvard University, US and Dimitry Kochenov, CEU Democracy Institute, Hungary and CEU Department of Legal Studies, Austria

'The law-politics distinction is at once fluid, hard to define and yet crucial to our understanding of constitutional law. This Research Handbook brings together a dazzling array of constitutional thinkers to explore this distinction and in doing so offers valuable insights about constitutional law and politics in a range of jurisdictions world wide. Methodologically and thematically eclectic in scope, it promises to be an essential reference for constitutional lawyers, political scientists and theorists for many years to come.'

The Experiences of International Organizations

A Phenomenological Approach to International Institutional Law

Jean d'Aspremont, Sciences Po Paris, France and University of Manchester, UK

'Standing on top of Mount Olympus as well as in the valley below, over the last decade or so Jean d'Aspremont has been creating a genre all his own, best seen as 'confessional phenomenology' perhaps. The result, here as elsewhere, is insightful and sometimes infuriating, eye-opening and occasionally trivial, with lots of ideas to explore and some to disagree with. The Passing-On Problem in Damages and Restitution under EU Law

Second Edition

Magnus Strand, Uppsala University, Sweden and Ignacio García-Perrote Martínez, Uría Menéndez Abogados SLP, Spain

'Passing-on' occurs when harm or loss incurred by a business is passed on to burden that business's customers or the next level of the supply chain. In this thoroughly revised and updated second edition, the authors provide the only available comprehensive examination of passing-on in damages and restitution under EU law. The analysis covers a broad range of contexts including competition damages and the repayment of charges.

Key Features:

- A specific focus on EU law and guidance that will be relevant to lawyers throughout the EU
- A multi-faceted and fully contextualised analysis of the defence of passing-on and the position of potential claimants downstream in the supply chain
- Practical suggestions for consistent approaches to passing-on in EU law across existing and future contexts
- Updates comprising new case law and materials across all contexts examined
- An expansion of discussions to encompass crucial new developments since the first edition of the book

Re-examining Insolvency Law and Theory

Perspectives for the 21st Century

Edited by Emilie Ghio, University of Edinburgh, UK, John M. Wood, Lancaster University and Jennifer L.L. Gant, University of Derby, UK

'This collection is a very welcome contribution to scholarship in relation to the law of corporate insolvency and rescue. The doctrinal features of this body of law are complex and challenging. The addition of a theoretical analysis is long overdue, partly I am sure because of the intellectual challenges of combining theory with doctrinal clarity. The authors have done so admirably, not surprising to those of us who are aware of the standing and reputation of many of the contributors to the collection. This is a volume which is a "must have" for all interested in the subject.'
